Website Upgrade for Soundsfast.net

Jamie: As per our conversation today, I estimate it will take approximately 25 hours ($1250) to upgrade the entire site to a mobile responsive template that will keep all the editing capabilities your used to intact and improved. This will include a improvement of the visual design as well as the responsive layout, so features like the gallery, slideshows etc. will be improved and changed to accommodate the new direction and the visual style of the site.

This can also be an opportunity to improve the organization of the site and make some fundamental changes to the structure and content of pages that are too much to maintain.

A deposit of $600 would be great to get me started and I'll be building the site either as a subfolder of your current site or another account so that we can review it during development.

Thanks,
